Step 1: Carefully read your selected readings. Take notes on your topic. Make note of interesting facts and the significance of your topic to other civilizations. How did your topic change the world? How did your topic impact society? What does your topic show about Islamic civilization?

Step 2: Review the Tasks and their descriptions below. EACH GROUP MEMBER IS RESPONSIBLE FOR WORKING ON AT LEAST 2 TASKS (not counting the rough draft summary). Record the names of which students are working on which task. Be prepared to share this with your teacher.

Step 3: AS A GROUP, write a rough draft summary of your readings. Your summary should provide a brief explanation of your topic. Be sure to include interesting facts and the significance of your topic.

Step 4: Draft a plan of your poster, including layout, and which member is assigned to which task before you begin.

Task	Description
Key Facts	Describe three or more key events, facts, or examples that demonstrate the significance of your topic. These will be written on your poster.
Drawings	Create two or more colorful drawings that help illustrate the significance of your topic.
Journal Entry / Letter	Write a fictional journal entry or letter that includes a firsthand account of the impact of your topic on Islamic civilization or the world. (Minimum 150 words)
Final Draft of Summary	You will type the final draft of your group's summary of your readings. Your summary should provide a brief explanation of your topic. Be sure to include interesting facts and the significance of your topic. This should serve as a summary of your group's poster.
Poster Design/Layout	Plan the layout and any artwork for your poster (including the title, borders, etc.)
